

SERVICE BRIEF

Web Filtering & Firewall

Protect your infrastructure with enterprise-level security for small and medium-sized businesses.

Protect your Network from Unsafe Web Content

Reinforce your network by preventing inappropriate content from entering your IT infrastructure.

Prevent your employees from accessing unsafe web content without keeping them from accessing sites and services necessary for their daily tasks.

With Argentum IT's Content Filtering solution, you can have precise control over the sites to which your users can go. Group policies can keep certain employees from accessing sites like Facebook and YouTube, ensuring a more productive environment, and you can completely filter out sites that are distasteful for the work environment. The intelligent filtering system will automatically detect inappropriate content and block it, so you don't need to manually enter in banned sites. Best of all, the system has a nearly nonexistent footprint, unlike software filters that bog down your client workstations. If you have an old workstation that isn't being used, ask us about configuring it as your content filter to save you the cost of purchasing new hardware.

Enterprise-Level Firewall for a Fraction of the Cost

Cost-effective solutions give you the protection you need without breaking the bank.

Add an extra layer of protection to your entire network infrastructure by integrating a secure firewall solution. Argentum IT's firewall is your infrastructure's first line of defense against damaging viruses and malware, effectively shielding your data from online threats. Your end-users can say goodbye to sluggish workstations and annoying access requests, and you can attain peace of mind by knowing your network is protected by only the most powerful of security solutions.

"Reclaim your network with Argentum IT's Web Filtering Solution."
